The Exclusion Bill Has Aroused the Celestials.

Secret Meetings Held in Baltimore and Philadelphia.

THEY HAVE DECIDED TO RETURN TO THE FLOWERY KINGDOM.

At the Signal Every Chinaman Will Leave America—Extract From an Editorial in Their San Francisco Paper—Protest
Entered by the Chinese Minister Against the New Law—The Local Situation.

PHILADELPHIA, May 7.—A movement was recently begun to cause the return of all the Chinese in the United States to China in consequence of the exclusion bill. This week a conference of the Chinese of Pennsylvania, Maryland and several other neighboring States was held in this city and attended by hundreds of the more influential Celestials. Delegates attended from many cities, but all the doings are kept a profound secret. The convention adjourned yesterday. Meetings also have been held in Baltimore, but the delegates asked out and published the names of the delegates. Thereupon Governor Hoyt, Baltimore magistrate, who is also the Grand Master of the Chinese Masons, issued an edict, transferring the meetings to Philadelphia.

The main subjects discussed were the articles published in the Mung Gee, the Chinese weekly published in San Francisco by War Kee, the editor, in which are detailed the public meetings which have been held in China, public attention being called to the one addressed by the speaker himself. The article concludes as follows:

"Our country has at last awakened to the fact that its children and their paternal and ancestral gods have been unduly imposed upon. Why does not our motherland do likewise to the unbelieving American race? But the time is coming when our rights must be respected. The father has as-penal of his children, and when we have all done our duty properly the edict will go forth prohibiting relations of any kind between the white man and the Indian. The Government capital will be driven from our native lands, and ships will not be allowed to land in our ports, and we will erect another wall in a commercial sense, and no more provisions which must be abided by us. If we ask our home government to enforce these provisions, we will have to drive our prophet, Chinaman to return to his native land. If any one has not the means, proper transportation will be provided for him, and be it known to all, that we will not be taken for granted by our government and we acquiesce in all its provisions, he who disregards the laws of his land, the country where he lives, will be in the eyes of the all-seeing ministry, and will in case he treats the showery walks late in life, do so at the risk of his life. We will be true to our words and actions are well weighed, have your meetings well attended and conducted with us, and we will be true to our word. We must come to our cause and retaliation be the watchword of our banner.

monstrous meeting to be held in Boston was the subject of discussion and suggestion that Tsui, the Minister at Washington, should be asked to attend and give his opinion on the proposed movement in question, but the wiser heads expressed grave doubts of the invitation being accepted, as they say that the Minister by so doing would be giving the impression that the United States Government was in sympathy with the movement. Mr. Ho Chung, one of the leading spirits, arranged the meeting for over two hours. Hong Hoi also made an address.

ST. LOUIS CELESTIALS.

The pendency of the Chinese exclusion bill, and its passage by Congress and approval by the President do not appear to have excited the St. Louis Chinese community to the extent reported of the Celestials in the

“The bill has been a subject for interest here, but no one has been able to get it. I have been in the field, and now that the bill has become a law, the Chinese are not clear what road can be effected by meetings or by the law. I went to the meeting expressed by Jau Hon Yee, the Locust street importer and merchant Jau Hon Yee has been twenty-two years on and off in this country. He showed me a copy of yesterday's evening paper containing the resolutions of the Methodist conference at Canton, China denouncing the bill. He thought the bill. He thought those resolutions were not the thing. 'This is a Clistian coun-

The resolutions, characterized by the President's action as a dirty electioneering dodge to get the Irish vote; and Jee Hon Yee, characteristically suggested that while the President was a good Christian, he wanted to have the Irish vote in order to be President again. He didn't know but it would be well to get his people together and protest against the enactment of such a law, and give Melicans some pointers on

IT WILL DRIVE THEM OUT.
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 7.—On inquiry at the Chinese legation to-day it is ascertained that the published statement is incorrect that no protest had been made to the State department by the Chinese Minister against the exclusion bill passed by Congress on the 1st inst. Minister Tsui says he called, in person, at the State department on the morning of the 4th and in the absence of the Chinese aw Assistant Secretary Wharton and notified him that he would send to the department at once a written protest against the bill, which he asked might be laid before the President immediately. The written protest reached the department at 2 o'clock of that day.

The Minister states that he objects to the bill mainly for reasons that it renews the cotton law of 1888;

1. It deprives the Chinese of the right of appeal in habeas corpus cases;
2. It requires registration of Chinese laborers which it is practically impossible for them to comply with.

They must all prove by white witnesses that they are lawfully entitled to be in the United States, and as the first exclusion law was passed in 1882, every Chinaman must produce before the Collector of Internal Revenue have a white witness who knew him ten years ago and can swear that he was in the United States at that time. This law leaves the issuance of the certificate of registration entirely to the discretion of the revenue officer and provides no way of compelling him to do justice to the Chinaman. He must register and produce his evidence in the district where he resides. His white witness may be 300 miles away.

Senators who have carefully examined the bill announced in the Senate that its practical effect would be to compel all Chinese laborers to leave the United States within the year fixed for registration. Senator Sherman, chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee,

The Chinese Minister said that the features of the bill are in direct violation of the treaty of 1880, which guarantees to Chinese laborers in the United States the treatment of the sub-the subjects of the most favored nations. He further says that the treaty of 1880 was agreed to by China at the express request of the Government of the United States, which sent three of its most distinguished citizens to Peking to ask for it. He declined to state what course his Government would take on account of the passage of the bill.

INDORSED SWEENEY'S BILL.
Meeting Last Night of the Eleventh Ward Improvement Association.

The Eleventh Ward Improvement Association held a meeting last night at Ebenezer Hall, Arsenal street and Ohio avenue. The association is composed of property owners of the northern portion of the Eleventh ward and was organized last March. It claims a membership of 400. About forty members were present last night and discussed the bill now pending before the Municipal Assembly to grant a franchise to the City Central Railway Co. to build a cross-town electric street railroad. The sense of the meeting was enthusiastically in favor of the bill. Mr. Eugene Sweeney, who is engineering the bill, was present and addressed the meeting. The proposed route of the line has been published in the Post-Dispatch. It extends from Carondelet to the cemetery, with a down-town terminus at Sixth and Locust streets, and two branches extending west, one on North Market street to King's highway and one from Nebraska avenue to Tower Grove Park. It is proposed to transfer onto any of the branches for a single fare.

The meeting secured John Scullin for its alleged lack of accommodations, and hailed the advent of the new road, as a period when they would "get out home." A committee composed of John Mels, Joseph Dickman, Frank J. Karnauck, J. C. Brockmeier and John Stuever, was appointed to appear before the committee of the City Council which will be charged with the bill, and which meets to consider it on the afternoon of May 16, and urge the passage of the bill. Sweeney, in his remarks before the meeting, referred to a charge that his proposed scheme was only a money-making scheme and that the road would not be built. He said that they were ready at any time to give a $25,000 forfeiture bond, and that if the City Council did not think that enough, it could be increased to $50,000. J. C. Tichacek of 2411 South Twelfth street presided at the meeting, and William Conroy of 214 Iowa avenue acted as secretary.

WYOMING'S CATTLE QUARANTINE.

Union Pacific Officials Requested the Governor to Modify It.
CHEYENNE, Wyo., May 7.—Ed Dickinson, assistant general manager of the Union Pacific, accompanied by a number of division superintendents and other officials of the road, called upon Acting Governor Harber to-day to endeavor to induce him to modify his recent quarantine proclamation, which prohibits driving southern cattle across Wyoming ranges. They have been shipped into the state by rail. The governor will give the delegates a hearing to-morrow as to his intentions. It is probable the quarantine will be modified or withdrawn. One hundred thousand cattle will be shipped North this season if the quarantine is withdrawn.

The Electropoise.
The Electropoise has ceased to be an experiment, but has proven to be the best thing in the world for the treatment of all diseases, whether acute or chronic. The Electropoise needs but a trial to convince any one that it is superior to all known remedies. It has already performed some wonderful cures in this city and numbers among its warmest friends many of the best people in St. Louis. The Electropoise cures when all else fails. A Prominent Iowa Episcopal Clergyman Resigns His Charge.

MARION CITY, Mo., May 7.—Rev. Charles Lutz, rector of St. John's Guild, a prominent Episcopal church, resigned to-day, and notified the congregation that he had become a Catholic. He goes to Montreal to join the Order of St. Sulpice. It is learned that he has for some time been taking instructions under Father Carolan of this city and departed with a letter to Bishop Hennessy of Dubuque, who will furnish him with the necessary credentials of the order. He is highly educated, and says that his mind has been leading him to take this step for some time. He is a Swiss, and is a fluent speaker in several languages.

WAITED TOO LONG.
Church People Delay and Are Outwitted by Saloonkeepers.

DETROIT, Mich., May 7.—The selection for a site for Detroit's new Union Depot, now fast nearing completion, naturally led to many newspaper articles, especially as the site was peculiarly located, being bounded on one side by manufacturing concerns and on the other by Fort street, on which are located the residences of Gen. Alger, James A. Joy, the widow of Zach Chandler and other wealthy Detroiters. The depot is at the corner of Fort and Third streets, and directly across is the Fort street Presbyterian Church, which has half a dozen millionaire residents of Fort street in its congregation. The most novel story concerning the depot came to light to-day, all the available ground in the vicinity being occupied by elegant residences and the massive buildings of manufacturing concerns. It seemed probable that there would be no saloons within two blocks of the depot and the wealthy residents of Fort street felt that while it was bad enough to have the depot there, they would escape the usual list of saloons usually surrounding such an enterprise. Directly across the depot from the Presbyterian church there is a small lot 30x15 feet which has for years been fenced with the church property and is directly across the land at $60 per year. An elegant saloon will be erected on the land, and within twenty feet of the pulpit where spiritual blessings are poured forth, spirits will be dealt out to refresh the weary traveler.

A HANDSOME VICTORIA.
The finest carriage of its kind in the city is the handsome "C" Spring Victoria just finished for Mrs. J. J. Lawrence by the well-known builders, James A. Wright & Sons Carriage Co. It is of the very latest design and every last improvement pertaining to beauty, comfort and finish in carriages is combined in this Victoria. Rubber-tired wheels avoid all noise from the street paving over which it rolls, and the ease contributed by springs of finest steel is added to by a late improvement where rubber gives them further softness. The painting is in beautiful shades of blue, striped in becoming lines of creamy white, edged with gold. The luxurious upholstery is in cloth and laces of a delicate shade of blue. The handsome hanging lamps and mountings are of silver, and the Victoria complete forms an object of beauty that attracts the eye and retains the attention of the lover of art as applied to utility.

BOUR MASH.
Moneyed Men Uniting to Control Kentucky Distilleries.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 7.—Nathan Hoffheimer of New York and Adolph Woolner of Beersville, Ill., have been here quietly at work for a week or more on a scheme which, if carried out, will be of great importance to the distillers of Kentucky. Of course they do not desire to make their plans public, but it was learned from a reliable source that Mr. Hoffheimer and others are getting up a project of some kind to control all of the sour mash distilleries in the section. A number of prominent distillers who admitted that they met Mr. Hoffheimer during the past few days, said that there was to be a sale of their properties to the New York syndicate. The scheme may be desired to be carried out, but few of the distillers will talk about it, and none desire to have anything said about this matter. When questioned, said: "I really would prefer not to have anything said about this matter. I can say to you, however, that I am not getting up a scheme for the control of distilleries for any English syndicate. Myself and Woolner are here on business and I really don't care to discuss what we are doing until our business is completed. If you will come around later I may have some information for you."

A REAR-END COLLISION.
Serious Accident on the Chicago & Alton at Mitchell.

VENICE, Ill., May 7.—The south-bound limited on the Chicago & Alton Railroad struck a southbound freight which was standing on the siding at Mitchell at 6:35 this evening. The freight was not clear of the main track. The engineer of the limited, James Lamb, jumped from the engine, receiving severe internal injuries and scalp wounds. The engine on the limited was demolished, also the caboose and several cars of the freight train were wrecked. A wrecking engine went up from Venice with a party who cleared the track. The freight was in charge of Conductor Hartman of Bloomington.

SLIPPING UP ON A BARGAIN.

"Man wants but little here below." That's all quite true, and yet I'd like to see the man that won't take all that he can get.
—H. M. L. in Life.

SO-CALLED "BARGAINS" are as plentiful as blackberries. Most of 'em, too, are like ice—exceedingly slippery. It isn't a remarkably pleasant sensation to discover that you, as well as the goods, have been "sold." Is it? Of course not. There's a way, however, of avoiding such an unpleasant kind of experience, and that is, to go where folks speak (as one's sworn to do in the Courts) "the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth"—where not the slightest misrepresentation is allowed—where merchandise is disposed of on its own merits. Gracious! what quantities of SPRING SUITS we're selling this season! They're pleasing alike to the eye and the touch and the pocket, and are jammed full of style. Very probably the lad wants a Suit, too. Here they are for every age. Chunky or slim, all's one so far as fit goes. Naturally, a man will "take all that he can get"—wouldn't he be human if he didn't? And you'll never fail to obtain at Browning, King & Co.'s a brimful equivalent for the money you invest.

value was most on the following day, but rallied again yesterday and closed pretty firm at six for July, which was like above the preceding Saturday's close. It was the weather that proved to be the most important factor. Rain, rain, rain all over the country and rain, snow, hail, freezing cold all over the Northwest. The already delayed seeding in North Dakota and Northern Minnesota was thrown back still further, until now it is not a question of when the seeding will be finished, but how much can be sown. In North Dakota and Southern and Central Minnesota are all right and have an increased acreage put in spring wheat, but even in these sections very little seed has been put in, and it is not likely to be likely. The smaller acreage than last year will be the result of the extremely backward spring of this season. The conditions in that extreme northwest section, where the loss of the crop was almost total, according to intelligence received from trustworthy sources: Last fall

Another increase is seen in local receipts of wheat, but to small—121,280 bu. for week, against 113,235 bu. for the week ending March 10. The receipts from the West are also small. But while the arrivals continue to be small, the stocks do not fall off any, yesterday's closing figure being 1,000,000 bushels. The receipts from the West are so far for the week, and the 63,800 bu. in No. 1 red, 16,500 bu. larger. The cash market has been fairly quiet, but a slight rise is noted. There is a demand, a summer demand. Only three mills were running in this city most the week and they were running at a low rate. The output of the three mills was few and far between and exporters could not operate at a profit. The dullness in flour and price of wheat, which is relatively higher than the manufacturers' price, has been a factor in this. Flour is a four business. No. 2 red sold on Thursday at 86c and No. 1 at 88c. Hard side, but yesterday was off to 85c. The market for No. 1 red is 85c at St. Louis. No. 4 winter at 78c and rejected at 69c.

The bull feeling is still strong in area, fed by stories of an acreage this year only half that of 1891 and that the crop will consequently be small. The price of wheat at Chicago is at a high level, but the market has followed suit and went sailing upward in price, receiving a boost from the advances in wheat and corn. May sold up to $1.10 and 1/2 to 20c, the former closing yesterday at high point since July at 20c. No large new purchases have been made on long account, but the market already had been added to the the shipments of wheat from India which last year were so surprisingly large are being even smaller this year. The total for the first 11 months in March 1 to March 22, amounting to $5,352,000 against $6,606,000. Another notable circumstance is that the Continent is credited with half of amount, whereas heretofore the United Kingdom has been the principal or only buyer of Indian wheat.

He had just procured and Mr. Hart was industriously and gently engaged in the work of boring the hole in the side of the store. He was doing so, some time afterwards, when he was attracted to the borer to witness the outcome. The tip of the auger struck the heavy iron barrel of grease, and the result was that a large grease flow out like water from a fireman's hose, and the crowd went in every direction. A man was killed, and the store was damaged. The clothing alone was placed at $38. The question is who should pay the damage?

As if my work here the past winter helped to enlarge our receipts to some extent, my purchases for manufacturers of America, except for the direct shipment to Europe have run in the hundreds of thousands of dollars. The pressed, during some of the season, but generally the demand for goods for fall delivery still continues. Staple wools are in fair request but bad supply. A great deal of attention is being directed to the new up-blended combings, and there seems to be much interest in the possibilities of the new wools which will be marketed as usual by the indiscriminating enthusiasm manufacturers. Sales of wool on the sheep's back in Kentucky are reported at 20c and in Missouri at 18c, though many makers say that they are offered at 16c. The price of the staple wools is about 14c and lower grade fleeces, 12c.

Market.—The market has been active; not enough hogs. Prices fluctuated only a shade. General average for the market has been $5 to $6 for pigs and $7 to $8 for hogs. Yearling calves had $4.50 to $5.00 for choice, $4.55 to $4.60 for butchers. Yesterday was steady.

Sheep.—The market was active and strong on good choice muttons and lambs, but there was nothing to do for heavy and medium. Good muttons were $3.00 to $4.00 for country and $4.00 to $4.50 for city.

There is ground for apprehension that some of the minor presidential booms will turn out to be a "didn't-know-it-was-his" boom.

THE INCIDENTS WHICH LED TO BLOOD-SHED ON THE WYOMING RANGE.

A black and white illustration of a cowboy in a wide-brimmed hat and chaps, leading a horse by a rope. The horse is facing left. The scene is set in a field with some sparse vegetation. Below the illustration, the text "TYPICAL WYOMING" is printed in a bold, sans-serif font.

The invader's vigilantes were a dozen men, some of them "detectives" as may be picked up in any quarter where the idle are loafing. They were led by a man called a leader was Maj. Walcott. He got his title in the rebellion. He is a man of about 40 years of age and the past fifteen years has been the owner of a large herd, the home ranch of which is a kind of a cross between the old and the new of the Platte, a hundred miles south of the ranch where Ray and Champion were killed. He is a stockman as an aristocrat, and it is asserted that he has not a single head of cattle in the country. He is a man of command was Hilley Irvine, who has had large interests in the cattle and horse business of the state and territory of Wyoming ever since 1878. He is a stock owner and the manager of the stock of the Dry Cheyenne, which is being on the Dry Cheyenne, the locality of

HOW THE CAT-O-NINE TAILS WAS A

He then went on to tell how the great chestnut-brown negro struck him the first time the fellow dropped his pipe and ceased his dancing. The next time he was hit, the negro said, "I was hardly necessary to add that he was not a white man, but that he was unmanly and he was led back to his cell."

His successor was a chestnut-brown negro who was a white man with a black face. Officers are always permitted to wear their hats on the way to the post. This fellow plainly told him that he was not a white man, and removing his coat, but the warden invited him to take it off, which he did. It was then that he was hit. The negro said that he would have been a great protection to his back. The warden told him to take it down and he did so. The negro said that he understood the order at first, then another negro received five lashes and told the warden that he was not a white man. The negro crack at him.

The next horse thief who had stolen the pillion an hour or there about was brought out and shot in his fifteen lashes. He stood them well, although the skin was so raw that it was removed in several places.

Salt Finances.

ley was a problem. From end to end of the center of the valley is one long salt marsh, and in most places there is so soft and wet that even a man would need snow shoes to insure his safety. Everywhere, however, the cozoons have been crushed over. This crust is in places very thin and treacherous, and only in one locality remains solid to the firm. Wherever this crust has been cut through a thin, slumpy salt mud has been found of unmeasurable depth—unmeasurable with any line pole.

Dr. C. Hart Merriam's corps of scientists cut through in one place and easily shoved a pole down fifteen feet. There is no guessing how much deeper the slime was.

However, a road must be had, and so the luckiest event about the trip was the discovery

Written for the SPENDY POST-DISPATCH.
When Lieutenant-Commander Richard Somers of Triplican fame was a midshipman he was attached to a frigate in the Mediterranean. The renowned Stephen Decatur was one of the midshipmen in the steeage with Somers, and the two were very intimate, like frat, sworn friends. They had sailed together before, and were very close.

Decatur was an overbearing, arrogant man and treated Somers at times rather cavalierly. The midshipmen in the steeage, ignorant of their former intimacy, got it into their heads that Somers stood too much from Decatur, and was, in fact, afraid of him; so they determined to put him into coventry. The ruse was resented by challenging the senior timorous.

Decatur was of course his second. The first midshipman Somers fought shot him and was killed.

ing an ounce ball. "Fire!" both pistols were discharged and both men fell to the ground. Seawell was horrified. "Here I am," he said, "with two pistols in my hands, and I the only witness."

He ran to the water and signaled the frigate to come. The sailors then were conducted by Seawell to the ground. Ham was found shot through the chest, and Phil was found with the ball of his leg gone in the right side of his temple. The ball had reached the artery and had cut it. The wound was seen under the skin of the left temple, looking, as Seawell said, "like a big bite from a snake." The two men were taken to the young men were carried off to the Macedonian and placed in the surgeon's hands.

Seawell then went to the temple of the skin of Philsbury's temple the ball "popped out." He was soon on duty again.

After a record of the day's events, Commodore Perry and Capt. Mayo were living on shore, and the executive officers were on duty. They reported the circumstance of the duel. At night they tried very hard to get the ship to leave. The sea was very rough.
